Dear Sir:

A little over 2 years ago safety railings furnished by your corporation were installed on an access ramp leading to one of our public beach areas in Fort Walton Beach, FL.

Approximately 9 months ago our department was tasked to design a wheel chair access ramp and connect it to the original ramp. Since then we have inspected the ramp several times and to the best of our knowledge the railings do not seem to be fading in color.

A better comparison can be made in the near future since we will be installing new railings on our new ramp.

Sincerely,

JAMES PUCKETT
